WHAT HAVE WE LEARNT?

The children have been exploring division this week with the use of counters and place value grids. This has allowed them to build up to dividing 2-digit numbers with a formal method. Thank you to those who are supporting their children with Times Table Rock Stars at home. Their times table recall significantly aids them in units such as division.

This week the children are in full swing writing their twisted fairy tale. It has been wonderful to see their determination and attention to detail, ensuring their year 1 buddy class has the best story experience in the next few weeks.

The children's dance routines are developing brilliantly and they are showing a secure understanding of the dynamics of dance. It was great to see their sense of pride and determination when watching their routine back and talking about points for improvement. We can't wait to see their final performances.

In history, we have explored the impact the Romans had on Britain. The children were in awe of the significant change and how forward thinking their civilisation was. We are soon to design a Roman town that we will then later build in Design and Technology.

Computing has seen the children code on a programme called Logo. The children have used clear instructions to manipulate a figure to draw specific shapes. I wonder if we have any future game designers among us?

The Highland Falcon Thief has all of year 4 gripped with ever changing theories about the 'The Magpie'. Is it Milo? Why is Mr Pickle so grumpy? Where is the real diamond? I wonder how many children have already guessed who the thief is.
