WHAT HAVE WE LEARNT?

In maths, Year 4 have been diving into the concept of area. Students have been exploring how to measure the space within shapes. This learning is building on their understanding of geometry from year 3.

This week, the children have been working hard on writing their resolutions to The True Story of the Three Little Pigs. Their finished pieces are now proudly displayed in their beautiful learning books, showcasing their growing writing skills, handwriting and imaginative ideas.

There has been continued excitement about our dance topic in P.E this term. The children have now explored the dynamics, space and relationship of dance to demonstrate their understanding of the states of matters solids, liquids and gases. Many children have had the opportunity to be filmed and watch their own dances allowing them to chop and change their moves accordingly.

The Highland Falcon thief continues to be a mystery. Hal and Lenny are continuing to work together to find the culprit. There is now a debate as to whether Lenny should own up to being on the train as the stowaway. Will she make the right decision?

In history, the children have now finished learning about the Romans. The children have learnt how Britain has changed since the Romans whilst deciphering some images from the Roman times. Many children thought that a Roman water fountain was a toilet... oops! The children know how Romans organised their towns, what new types of buildings the Romans brought to Britain and what an amphitheatre was.

This history topic has linked fabulously with our D&T topic where the children have been busy building structures and weaving to create an impressive year group roman town. Watch out for pictures on X.
